ARISTOCRATS OF NEW YORK WEDDED

Jay Gould, Son of George J. Gould
United in Marriage To Miss Annie Douglas Graham.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, April 29.—The second Gould wedding of the season took place in the fashionable St. Thomas church this afternoon, when Jay Gould, second son of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Gould, took for his bride Miss Annie Douglas Graham, the only daughter of Mrs. Hubert Vos. Unlike the wedding of Miss Vivian Gould and Lord Deedes, which was celebrated in the same church in the early part of the winter, today's wedding was a comparatively simple and small affair, owing to the recent bereavement in the family of the bride. The guest list at the church ceremony and at the reception that followed was confined to the relatives and a few intimate friends of the contracting parties.

Mr. Gould was a groom of white flannel, white ruffles and a white blouse when the young bride, leaning on the arm of her step-father, walked up the flower-strewn aisle. The bride was attended by Mrs. Snowden A.
Dunstock as matron of honor, while her bridesmaids were her two cousins,
Miss Anita Van Dyke of Milwaukee, and Miss Marjorie Whitlock of New York.

Mr. Gould was attended by his brother, Kingston Gould, as best man. The usher was Harry Graham, brother of the bride, Anthony J. Drexel, Jr., in brother-in-law of the bridegroom; T.
Chesley Richardson, Jr., Rush E. Lee,
J. Harry Alexander, Jr., and Julius W.
Noyes.

The bride's gown was of white satin, simple style, with point lace, bodice and skirt trimmed in bands of satin.

Following the church ceremony,
which was performed by the rector,
the Rev. Dr. Ernest M. Stiles, a small reception was held at the Vos studio in West 67th street. Within the next week or two Mr. Gould and his bride expect to sail for Europe. With other members of the Gould family they will be the guests of Lord and Lady Deedes in London during the coronation session and later in the summer they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Gould at Abingdon, Scotland.

The first meeting of the bride and bridegroom of today occurred less than a year ago at a charity bazaar at which Miss Graham was one of the attendants. Their engagement, after having been widely rumored and denied, was formally announced early in February at a dinner given by Mrs. Vos at the Metropolitan Club.

The bride is the only daughter of the late Douglas Graham, a man of social and business prominence in New York. Her mother was a Miss Conroy of Hawaii. Mr. Graham married his wife in Honolulu, but after a brief stay there returned to New York and in this city the daughter was born. Following the death of her husband, Mr. Graham was married to Hubert Vos, who was well known as a portrait painter. Miss Graham was educated in a convent school in Paris, and following her graduation she spent a year in travel with her parents.

Jay Gould is the second son of Mr.
and Mrs. George J. Gould. He is independently wealthy, having inherited a fortune of $2,000,000 from his grand father, the late Jay Gould, besides his share in the Gould estate. He is the amateur court tennis champion of the world, having been the sport while a student at Columbia University, and was some remarkable victories in England. He is also a skilled polo player and outdoorsman.

DEMAND UNIVERSAL SUFFRAGE IN ITALY

Socialists of Country, Already Represented in Cabinet, Want Further Concessions.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Rome, April 29.—Now that the Italian socialists have secured cabinet representation, their leaders are wanting a vigorous campaign for a law granting universal suffrage. Premier Giulitti is willing to concede old age pensions and state insurance but is fighting hard to limit the franchise.

The present Italian electoral law dates from 1862. It limits the franchise to literates, to those who pay $1 yearly in direct taxes, to farmers paying $100 annual rental or to householders paying a rental of $30 to $80 yearly. A modification in the code in 1895 changed the rules for preparing the voting lists, however, in such a way as to curtail the number of voters considerably. In fact, the proportion of the population which votes is at present about 9 per cent. In addition to this, manipulation of the returns and pressure upon the voters generally gives the government practically just what it wants.
Giulitti's idea is undoubtedly to give the country enough reforms to make himself popular but not enough to interfere with his power. For all of his liberal professions, he is generally classified as belonging to the same school of politicians as former Presidents Depretis and Crispi, who were entirely indifferent to reform and supported the corruption which made Italian politics a byword all over the world.

INDUSTRIAL SHOW OPENED BY KING

International Exposition On Outskirts of Turin, Italy, Inaugurated in Presence of Royal Family.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Turin, April 29.—The international industrial exposition, the chief feature of the Italian jubilee, was formally inaugurated here today in the presence of King Victor Emmanuel and other members of the royal family, the em-bassadors of foreign countries, diplomats and cabinet ministers. J. Pierpont Morgan, the American financier, attended the opening at the special invitation of the King and the exposition commissioners.

The exposition, which will run through the entire summer, occupies a large and beautiful site on the outskirts of Turin, on both sides of the River Po. There are in all about 125 buildings in which are housed a wealth of exhibits illustrating the industrial progress of all nations. In the number of exhibition palaces and the extent of the grounds the show is one of the largest international affairs of its kind ever held.

Great Britain and the United States are both well represented at the exhibition. The United States pavilion is situated on one side of the river in a group that includes the buildings of Germany, France and several other countries. Several hundred American manufacturers and business men have sent exhibits. The manufacturers of electrical supplies and machinery and agricultural implements are especially well represented.

The British building is finely situated on the town side of the river, in the Valentino park, and near the medieval castle which has long formed one of the chief attractions of Turin.
Adjoining the British section is the splendid machinery hall and surrounding it are magnificent fountains and gardens, sloping down to the River Po.

only democratic member of the Ways

Most interest- ing Wants.....

Probably no part of a newspaper is so close to the vital personal interest of the readers as the Want Column. The Wants column reflects the needs of scores of people as well as enumerate the requirements of businesses and households.

The manufacturer, the jobber,
the retailer, the professional man, as well as the thrifty housewife—all find the want column of inestimable value in many ways.
Suppose there's need of workers in the factory, suppose office helpers are required, suppose the cook or maid has given notice of leaving—in all such instances the first thought is what do the Want Ad Columns offer today?

Gazette Want Ads are quick in bringing returns and inexpensive in cost.

ement of Capitol.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Madison, April 29.—Both houses of the legislature were thrown into a semi-panic today when during the session a huge six ton steel girder being placed in the rotunda slipped its grip and fell eighty-five feet to the basement. Some damage was done to the structural work, but no one hurt.

The governor today appointed George W. Taylor of Kenosha judge of seventeen counties to succeed Judge Russell H. Shawson resigned, because of advanced age and declining health.

Both houses today disposed of lengthy calendars, but touched upon no measure of state wide interest.
The senate ordered to third reading a number of measures relating to the jurisdiction and terms of judges, Janesville and Racine municipal courts and of the Wisconsin county court.

The assembly committee on education recommended for indefinite postponement the Wehrwein bill providing that graduates from free high schools be admitted to state university without examinations.

Under the present law graduates of university accredited schools are admitted without examinations.
State superintendent of schools
Carry favors the measure, while Pres.
Van Hise of the University is against it.

ticipated.

Their lineup will be: Doran, c; Berger, p; Porter, ss; Hemming, 1b; Sullivan, 2b; Dewitt, 3b; Abraham, lf; Green, cf; Brown and Leary, rf.

TENNIS CLUB TO OIL ITS COURTS ON MILWAUKEE ST.

Unique Plan for Keeping Playing Ground in Best Possible Shape Decided Upon by Executive Committee.

The Edgerton High School Basketball Team have closed their season with a very good record for the second season of basketball in the school. Starting two years ago with no experience they have by steady, consistent work made a record of which they may well feel proud.

Out of a total of thirteen games played, including games with most of the strong teams of this section, they have won nine, scoring 448 points, as against 289 points scored by their opponents. Their victories are over the Albion Academy team and the High School teams of Brooklynton, Milton, Milton Junction, Evansville, Beloit and Stoughton.

Two games were lost to Broadhead and one each to Stoughton and Madison. The support given the team at all times by the school and public has been most encouraging.

ning from Beloit to Janesville.

Campbell, who has entire charge of the event, will lay out the route "in a day or so." The run will start from Beloit and follow what is known as the "prairie road" into this city, coming up South Main street to the corner of Main and Milwaukee streets and up Milwaukee street to the local Y.

The race will be run against time. That is the Janesville runners, and the Beloit team will run separately instead of against each other as was originally planned. The Janesville team will run first, starting next Saturday afternoon and keeping their own time records. A week later the Beloit runners will take the run and the records will be compared. The course will be divided into lengths of one mile each. The start will be made from Beloit and notes will be carried by runners, dropping one at each mark and picking up the one who has finished his part of the race.

Beloit will have to put some speedy runners on the course if they expect to compete with the local men. About twenty-five are competing for places on the team and several have clipped off the distance below the five minute mark. Russell McDuff is the speed boy, thus far with a record of 4:47. Will Hemming comes next with a mark of 4:52. John Simpson and David Cunningham are tied with a time mark of 4:55 and Vic Blaisdale has made the mile lap in 4:57. The squad is running the mile every night in preparation for the race.

Blaisdale, the youngest candidate out, is creating quite a sensation with the way he is coming to the front as a miler. He started training with the rest of the candidates about a week ago and stepped into the first division immediately. Previously he had had no experience in running, but with a little development and training is looking on as a "comer." He is about fifteen years old and has the making of an athlete.

Other members of the squad that are preparing for the race are: Fred Winslow, Raymond Foster, William Hennings, Victor Hemming, Ray Miller, George Platen, Don Stewart, Valen, the Mott, Roy Cannon, Frank Sager, Edward Atwood, Robert McGintey, the Wisconsin-Milwaukee league in an exhibition game at the Fair Grounds.

The occasion is to be an auspicious one as it marks the rebirth of baseball in this city. Mayor John C. Nichols will pitch the first ball over the plate. It was originally planned to have a parade, but it is announced that this scheme has been abandoned.

The diamond at the grounds has been rearranged to the advantage of the spectators. An entire change of location was made so that the diamond is placed thirty-five feet nearer the grandstand than heretofore. Other changes and improvements have been made in anticipation of some good sport and large crowds during the summer.

Sunday's game as a curtain-raiser promises to furnish the local fans with what they desire in the way of the national pastime. The Madison nine is one of the best in the W-L league and a good article of baseball is put up by them.

Is there has collected some of the stars from various cities in the state nearby, and these with some local talent, will form his lineup for tomorrow. All have demonstrated their ability and their knowledge of the game and some classy work is looked for from them. Included in the number are some young players who have come to the forefront rapidly and are making good and there are some of those who have several years experience in baseball. The lineup for Janesville is announced will be as follows:

Hull or Cronan, catcher; Smith and Butters, pitchers; Green or Menley, first base; Miller, second base; Simpson, third base; Junk or Hall, short stop; Church, left field; Williams, center field; Cronan or Sullivan, right field.

Indoor Leagues.

The last games in the indoor baseball league of the B Juniors of the Y. M. C. A. were played this morning at the association building between Patton's and Mason's teams and the Mason and Garbutt squads. The indoor games will be discontinued among the older Juniors to be replaced by the outdoor game. The in-

At a meeting of the executive committee of the Y. M. C. A. Tennis club on Thursday night it was decided that the courts of the club, located on the lot at the corner of West Milwaukee and Locust streets, should be treated with crude oil, such as is used in sprinkling streets. The plan was hit upon by the committee as the best possible means of keeping the grounds in good shape during the summer for the amount of money which could be laid out for such purposes. The method of treatment will be practically the same as is used on the highways. The courts will be rolled out smooth and then the oil sprinkled over them. This gives a firm, even surface and, it is said, the courts are not washed out after a rain. It was at first planned to cover the grounds with clay and have clay courts, but the scheme adopted was decided upon as better.

TRAP SHOTS OUT IN FULL FORCE FRIDAY

Nineteen Local Gunners Participated in the Practice Shoot At the Fair Grounds.

Trap shooters of Janesville were out in full force yesterday afternoon for the practice shoot held at the Fair Grounds, the fourth held by the local gun club. Nineteen in all participated in the sport, including not only most of the members of the Janesville Gun Club, but a number of the other local sportsmen as well. The weather was anything but pleasant and shooting in a drizzly rain lost some of its enjoyment, but the enthusiasm shown was sufficient to overlook all such things. William McVicar was king, making thirty-eight out of a possible fifty shots. The scores of the gunners:

MILTON DEFEATED OPPONENTS FRIDAY

Crack High School Nine Played Great Ball and Shut Out Whitewater Yesterday With 4 to 0 Score.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, April 28.—The strong Whitewater high school team was shut out in the second game of the league series here today by a score of 4 to 0. For seven innings it was the hottest diamond battle ever played on the local field. A bunch of errors coupled with some great "inside ball" netted Milton three runs in the eighth inning. Kuckel, Whitewater's south-paw, had Milton's heavy hitters breaking their backs over his big in-drops, striking out 17 men and allowing only 4 hits. Randolph pitched a fine game for Milton, allowing only 3 hits and striking out 6 men; his support was good and he would have been allowed to twirl the entire 9 innings had the manager not wanted to save him for Tuesday's game with Stoughton. Garrius pitched the last two innings, allowing no hits and striking out 4 men. The score:

Baseball Notes.

The South Dakota League has been organized with teams in Mitchell, Aberdeen, Watertown, Huron, Redfield and Faulkton.

The Oakland and Los Angeles teams gave the Pacific Coast League fans a good run for their money recently by playing an 18-inning game.

Pitcher Carl Moore of the Quakers is showing a fine line of spring tenders. Carl is shooting 'em over the pan the same way he does in July.

On his first appearance after rejoining the Washington Team Pitcher Tom Hughes stood the highlanders on their heads. They never came back unless they return.

Evidently Owner John I. Taylor of the Boston Red Sox loves the scribbles not. In a recent interview Colonel Taylor fed a Boston reporter the following: "I trust that the Boston papers won't turn out like the St. Louis ones, always being there with a knock for the home teams."

JANESVILLE TAKES FIRST AND SECOND PLACE IN CONTEST

Miss Margaret Doty Won First Honors In Declamation Contest and Filmer Cuckow Second Place in Oratory, at Beloit.

Janesville high school achieved more honors in the league contest at Beloit last evening at which Miss Margaret Doty took first place in declamation and Filmer Cuckow won second place in oratory. Miss Doty easily took the honors in her class with the selection, "The Two Home Comings," a most appropriate selection and one which gave large opportunity for Miss Doty's skill in the art of declamation. Miss Zilla McDowell of Milton won second place with the selection, "The Day of the Spank."

In the oratorical contest Filmer Cuckow secured second place for Janesville with the oration, "The German Monarchist," and Milton Thompson of Beloit captured the first honors. Cuckow has an excellent delivery and a free and easy manner, but Beloit's representative possessed force and polish which took with the judges.

The local school has cause for gratification in the victory last evening which means that the old standards in declamation and public speaking are being maintained. Miss Doty will now represent her league in the district at Whitewater, and if a winner there she will be entered in the state contest at Madison.

There was not a large crowd of Janesville people at the contest last

NEED MORE MONEY TO PURCHASE THE PROPOSED PARK

Committees Having the Stock Sale in Charge Will Make Another Trip On Monday To Business Houses.

"We need several thousand dollars more before we can close the deal for the purchase of the County Fair Grounds," said Chas. Putnam, chairman of the committee having charge of the sale of the stock and reports that while the responses have been most generous another campaign will be started on Monday to complete the purchase price as quickly as possible.

"The proposed park will be a great boon to the city," said Mayor Nichols, who is also interested in making the affair a success. "We found but few persons who would not take stock and what is needed is more of the same kind to insure success. Monday we will make another canvass and hope to be able to close the deal at once and begin work immediately."

Possibly two-thirds of the money needed to purchase the grounds is now subscribed but as there will be necessity be made repair work to be done, more is needed at once to assure the success of the plan. Work on the new half mile track should be commenced at once so that it can be gotten into good shape for the summer and fall meet and the mile track must be banked and tested before it can be used for an auto or motor cycle race.

Two committees, one for the east side of the river and one for the west side, will make their final appeal to the business and professional men on Monday and it is expected the result will be satisfactory and the transfer of the property can be made as soon as the stock company is organized and ready to take over the property. Meanwhile, if the stock is sold, work of remodeling the grounds will be started at once.

JOHN H. WATSON WAS SUDDENLY STRICKEN

Well Known and Life Long Resident of Janesville Stricken With Paralysis Last Evening and Died.

Stricken with paralysis while talking to friends in Meyer's cigar store early last evening, John H. Watson, one of Janesville's best known residents, passed away at half past eight last night, soon after he was taken to his home, 303 E. Milwaukee St. A physician was called but he never regained consciousness as the disease had done its work in the vital parts. He passed away peacefully and without a struggle.

Mr. Watson had been in the best of health all his life and his death came as a severe shock to his relatives and friends. The only premonition of disease when he suffered a slight stroke, but since then he had been troubled only slightly, until the end came suddenly last evening.

The deceased had been a life long resident of this city and was born here fifty-four years ago. He was the oldest son of the late John Watson and Susan Wilson Watson who came from England to Wisconsin in 1853. His early education and training was received here and was engaged in the contracting business here for many years past.

For four terms he served the city as street commissioner most faithfully and the streets of the city received his personal and careful attention. He was well known throughout the city and possessed qualities which won for him a large number of friends.

He leaves his surviving widow and three sisters; Mrs. Orla Sutherland and Mrs. Clinton Wilcox of this city; Mrs. W. T. King of Minneapolis; and one brother, William E. Watson of Phoenix, Ariz., New Mexico. Funeral services will be held from the late residence, 303 East Milwaukee street, at three o'clock Monday afternoon. The relatives request that friends omit flowers.

MRS. FRED STILLSON DIED LAST EVENING

Death Came At Mercy Hospital, Following Operation.—Was Woman Most Beloved By Friends.

Mrs. Fred Stillson passed away yesterday afternoon at five o'clock at Mercy Hospital following an operation which was performed Tuesday morning. Mrs. Stillson had been in poor health for a long time past and it was believed that an operation would do much to effect a cure. She was taken to the hospital Monday, but it was apparent after the operation Tuesday that she would not survive and her life ebbed steadily until the end came.

Mrs. Stillson was one of the most lovable characters and embodied all that is sweet and charming in womanhood. She was a devoted Christian and a faithful member of St. Mary's church; she took active interest in all church work and was also a member of the Ladies' Sodality spring no time or effort in her devotion to the good cause.

Mrs. Stillson was born in Adrian, Mich., and came to this city some thirty years ago. She leaves a grief stricken husband and three sisters; Mrs. James Balda of Madison, Ill.; Mrs. Dexter Welch of Adrian, Mich.; and Mrs. Sherman McKnight of Fond du Lac, who also leaves a brother, J. A. Gilfill of Madison, Ill. A son, Arthur, passed away in infancy. A son, Fred, is now in the military service. Funeral services will be held Monday morning at nine o'clock from St. Mary's church. The remains will be shipped to Chicago and interment will be made in a Chicago cemetery.

Daniel Hinckley.

The remains of the seventeen months' old child of Will Hinckley of Harvard arrived here at 11:45 this morning and were taken directly to Oak Hill cemetery where interment was made. Rev. T. D. Williams officiated.

Have Started Excavation: Fred R. Jones has started excavations for his new building on North Bluff street.

JANESVILLE IS TO HAVE A NEW BAND AND A NEW LEADER

Old Imperial Band Organization Goes Out of Existence and the Bower City Band Has Been Organized.

At a recent meeting of the members of the former Imperial Band, plans were made to reorganize, employ a new leader under the name of "The Bower City Band," taking the name of the old band that in its day made Janesville famous in the musical circles of southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois.

W. W. Menzies was elected president of the new organization; A. C. Honker, secretary; George Munchow, treasurer, and J. L. Fletcher, manager. Stuart A. Buchanan, for the past three years leader of the Edgerton City band, was elected leader and director. At a meeting to be held Monday evening the final plans for the reorganization will be completed. Two rehearsals a week are to be held and the number of the band members recruited from the ranks of all musicians in the city. At present the membership is twenty-five, but it is expected that it will be increased to over thirty before the band season opens. Mr. Buchanan is a fine leader and the new organization starts out with a determination to make their organization the best in the southern part of the state.

QUESTION OF LABOR AND CAPITAL CAUSE OF HEATED DEBATE

Warmth of arguments marked the session of the Men's club of the Presbyterian church at its meeting in the church parlors last evening. A. A. Jackson of this city taking exception to some of the statements of Prof. Hall of the University of Wisconsin, who took the aggressive side for labor and denounced the methods used by the employers.

The meeting was in charge of Prof. L. E. Rahr. The subject of Prof. Hall's talk was "The Playground of Life." In his opening remarks he said that the unorganized interests of the country have organized to secure the balance of power through favorable legislation and increase their profits. He made a plea to the people to drop their petty differences of creed and party to unite in a fight against graft and for a display of the spirit which prompted our forefathers during the Revolution. In the mid race for the "mighty dollar" he said people were allowing political and corporations to promote their own special interests and fill their pockets with money. He stated that the real issue was not a question of whether the government should be a log rolling institution responsible only to certain political cliques or to the people from whom it was established, but characterized the men in public life as seekers after gain rather than protectors of the welfare of the people and said that the tariff embodied the bigotry and selfishness of the others of the government.

The talk was somewhat socialistic in its nature, particularly regarding labor and capital. The speaker declared that the labor organizations are beginning to follow the example of the capitalists in entering politics and both are fighting for legislation that will favor them. The rule of Capital was a bad thing, but the rule of labor was even more so. He charged unscrupulous methods in business through attempts to defeat humanitarian measures to better laboring conditions. The struggle between the opposing forces, he declared, is becoming sharper and unless there is a revival of altruism, one will secure the upper hand and carry out its avaricious desires. He suggested a peaceful settlement of the difficulties by the people as the only means of preventing this.

The denunciation of the employers by Prof. Hall caused A. A. Jackson to protest against the statements made. He said there was no cause for such an arraignment of men, who through long hours of work and careful thrift had attained wealth and wisdom. He declared the war between capital and labor was imaginary and that employers were fair in their methods with employees, citing local business men as an instance. In the case of the man who invented the McCormick reaper, Mr. Jackson said that though the man became a capitalist, humanity, especially the farmers were benefited by the invention. The harsh and violent statements about capital and labor he said, tended to bring about these conditions and the appeal to class hatred was destructive of representative government. He said the sound principles of justice are would be better models to follow than the modern ideas of the universities. In rebuttal Prof. Hall said that to adhere to a policy of the past was a fatal doctrine and that conditions at present were vastly changed from those of the past.

Further criticism of the university was taken up by Mr. Jackson who declared that the taxpayers of the state were not supporting the state university that political propaganda might be taught or the minds of the students filled with socialistic ideas. As a taxpayer, citizen and father, he expressed his regret that the officers of the university permitted the teaching of such doctrines. Prof. Hall's concluding remarks were to the effect that he was a free lance and he considered the university a place for discussion.

Ladies Night. The committee to take charge of the Ladies Night banquet of the club were announced by the leader, Prof. Rahr, after the serving of supper last evening. The program will be in charge of S. M. Smith, D. C. Barker, J. S. Taylor, Mrs. J. W. Laughlin, Mrs. Gertrude Mount and Mrs. John Rexford. The Messrs. Metcalf, Williamson, Lamb, Hedges and Hansen, comprise the supper committee.

Accident Averted.
While Doctor W. O. Thomas was on his way on the road south to Bergen Thursday afternoon, in answer to an urgent call, he ran into a buggy containing L. L. Shummons and his son, Robert, both parties were going south and Messrs. Shummons were in the center track. The doctor was at the right side of the road in another beaten track, and just as the auto was about to pass the buggy, Mr. Shummons turned to drive into his driveway at his home and directly in front of the swiftly moving auto, which struck the buggy between the front and back wheels, throwing the buggy over and the occupants out. The only injury very lightly was a slight wound on Mr. Shummons' left wrist and forearm. The son Robert was unhurt, and the buggy but slightly damaged, but it was a very fortunate accident. Mr. Shummons did not hear the warning, feeling of the auto horn and the doctor did not know who was ahead or he would have known they would turn into their yard.

POSTAL STATISTICS WILL BE COMPUTED

Weight and Time of Handling Mail At Local Postoffice To Be Compiled During Month of May.

Starting at midnight next Sunday night and lasting during the month of May, the local postoffice will be subjected to one of the severest tests in the history of the country's mail service, upon the occasion of the weighing and classification of all the incoming and outgoing mail in this city. This test has for its purpose the exact computing of the actual number of times each piece of mail in each class is handled, and the weight of the mail in each case, so at the end of the thirty-one days the postoffice authorities at Washington will have the following statistical facts tabulated and at hand: the number of pieces of mail handled, the actual time consumed in handling, the average pieces handled per minute and the average number of employees handling them. The local postoffice forces look forward to a month of hard and trying work and as there are no provisions for extra hands in the order, their efforts will be taxed to the utmost in this complicated and detailed undertaking. For the facilitating of the computations four sheets have been prepared, for the incoming mail, the outgoing mail, mail delivered and mail collected. Each one of these is divided into classifications, fifteen in number so that each piece of mail may be classed and the time of handling shown in minutes. Close tab will thus be kept on the mail that is collected from the street boxes, at the office and from the rural routes, in the matter of delivered mail track will be kept of the number, weight and time consumed in handling of all mail that leaves the office either from the lock boxes or by city and rural carriers.

Thus it will be seen that at the end of the month, by compiling the wages and running cost of the office and comparing this with the time and weight of the mail a fair estimate may be obtained by the head of the department of what it costs actually to run the postal service every month. Each carrier and clerk has his separate sheet and from these the daily reports will be made out and then from these daily and weekly reports the month's business can be ascertained.

ELEPHANT SLAYS ITS TRAINER.

Infuriated Animal Tosses Man in Air Then Crushes Him.

Dixon, Mo., April 29.—Hundreds of persons saw an infuriated elephant hurl its trainer into the air and then, after crushing him with its weight, repeatedly pierce the body with its tusks.

The tragedy came while James Hildebrand, the trainer, was endeavoring to put Monte, the smallest elephant with the Kit Carson wild west show, into a car.

A crowd had gathered to watch the departure of the big animals and Hildebrand was adjusting the chains which bound Monte to its mate.

Without warning the elephant became enraged, and, wrapping its trunk around the trainer's body, lifted him high in the air.

Sunlight After Dark

truly describes the brilliancy of this new Mazda lamp for electric light. With the same amount of electric current its wire filament radiates from two to three times as much light as the ordinary carbon incandescent.

Use Mazda Lamps in Your Home

They will cut your light bill in two, or, double your illumination without extra cost. Try a G. E. 40-watt lamp at first. It consumes one-fifth less electric current and is twice as brilliant as the 10 c. p. carbon lamp you now use. Prices 70c and up. 20c discount allowed for return of old carbon lamps or for burnt out Mazda Lamps.

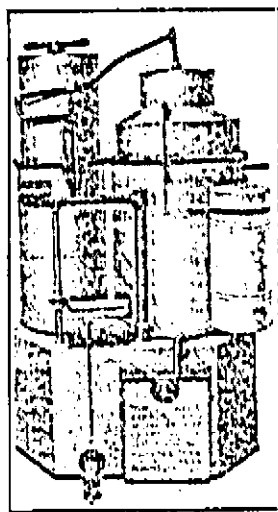

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

MAKE YOUR OWN GASLIGHT

Acetylene makes a cheap, exceptionally brilliant light—more economical than kerosene and quite as convenient as electricity.

Acetylene is made from Carbide—all that is necessary to make carbide give up its gas is to mix it with plain water—the gas, which is then instantly generated is genuine Acetylene. When piped to handsome brass chandeliers and fixtures Acetylene burns with an intensely brilliant, stiff flame. This flame makes a light so white that it has been called "Artificial Sunlight." Every farm or country place should have an Acetylene generator. It's a modern necessity.

The "Illinois" Carbide Feed Generator, the Most Perfect Generator For Acetylene Production

The "Illinois" is constructed in a most workmanlike manner of the highest grade galvanized sheet steel, double seamed and riveted and every machine is thoroughly tested before leaving the factory.

The "Illinois" is examined and tested by the Underwriters' laboratories and is made in accordance with the requirements of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and is on their approved list and can be installed in buildings without affecting the insurance on same.

Moissan, the distinguished French chemist, said in 1896, with reference to generators, as follows: "The ideal apparatus, which I think does not exist, consists of a gas holder containing an excess of water into which a fragment of carbide of known weight falls automatically at the desired moment. The weight of the carbide should be such that it will fill the gas holder with gas without producing an excess."

The "Illinois" Generator fills these requirements in every particular.

The safety and reliability of a generator depends upon the feeding mechanism. The "Illinois" generator is the perfection of simplicity and positiveness in its action.

It is governed in its feeding by a gasometer.

No valves are used as they are unreliable.

It feeds a fixed charge of Carbide only when needed to replace in the gasometer the gas which has been consumed at the burners.

It can never overfeed or deliver more than a fixed charge as when the carbide fills the scoop ready to feed it closes the mouth of the hopper and as the scoop drops the carbide the hopper closes again automatically.

The feed device is constructed of the best grade of Galvanized Steel thorough reinforced.

"Illinois" Generators, including the feed mechanism are fully covered by patents.

If you are tired of bad, uncertain light and paying for something you never get Acetylene will release you.

"Illinois" Electric Lighters do away with the use of lanterns and matches and the attendant danger.

You can have all the convenience in the way of light that may be had with either gas or electricity and have it at a much less cost.

With the "Illinois" Carbide Feed Generator to furnish the gas and the "Illinois" Electric Lighters to furnish light for the same you have the best money can buy. You have all the conveniences of electricity minus the excess cost.

If you want to be up-to-date, enjoy modern conveniences and keep the young folks at home, write us how many rooms and buildings you have. We will send you free an intensely interesting lot of facts, figures and booklets. Just address

LEADING FEATURES OF THE "ILLINOIS" CARBIDE FEED GENERATORS

Compact form, simplicity of construction, few working parts, no complicated mechanism, automatic in all its workings, economy in operation, fixed charge of carbide, absolutely safeguarded, no after generation, durability, thoroughly tested before leaving factory, protected by National Board of Underwriters, protected by patents.

It is conceded by all authorities that the best method of producing Acetylene is by a Carbide Feed Generator, and careful tests have proven conclusively that 1-1/2-12 Carbide yields the maximum amount of gas.

The remains arrived here this afternoon and were taken to her brother's home, 339 Center avenue. The funeral will be held Sunday afternoon at two o'clock from St. Mary's church and interment will be made in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

FURNITURE FACTS AND PRICES, WITH A FEW REMARKS REGARDING THIS STORE

Quality and variety are the strong features of this store. Nowhere else will you find as extensive a showing of really good furniture at such nominal prices as here. Each article we have is representative of the best of its kind, and the wonderful assortment on our three broad floors insures our suiting every taste and every purse.

An Attractive Value In Bed Room Furniture

No one who wants a well made up-to-date three piece bedroom suite will stand upon the order of their coming for one of these. Substantial and solid, simple construction, popular design and excellent finish are characteristics of this suite. The bargain is so apparent that we do not deem it necessary to dwell much on the matter. Isn't it a bargain at $35.00? Are we right?

$35

Come to our store and look the famous Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet over at your leisure.

This invitation is especially addressed to those who are thinking of a kitchen cabinet. We want you to see the Hoosier before you order any cabinet.

The Hoosier Manufacturing Company are the world's largest makers of Kitchen Cabinets. Their output of hundreds of thousands of these cabinets enables them to give the greatest possible value. The low price of the Hoosier is fixed by the manufacturers. We think the Hoosier gives more for the money than anybody else ever thought of putting into a cabinet.

We will be glad to show you the many step-saving and labor-saving conveniences of the Hoosier—its complete equipment WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE—its solid construction to last a lifetime.

You satisfy yourself entirely about the Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet before you buy.

The Hoosier Kitchen Cabinet

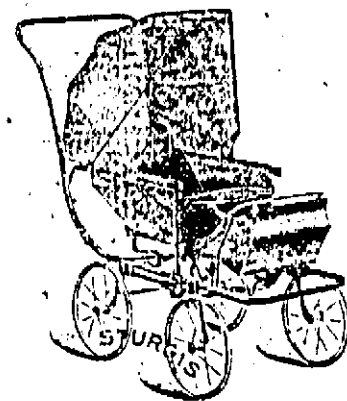

Is in use in 400,000 homes in the United States. Seven out of every ten of these cabinets are sold solely on the recommendation of one delighted woman to another. Janesville will soon be one of the best represented towns in this army of Hoosier users.

The Hoosier saves you miles of steps. It brings the whole kitchen to your finger tips. It saves you from reaching to high shelves. It saves you from the back-breaking stooping over bins, barrels and boxes. It saves you the bother of assembling a dozen things for your work.

The extension top of the Hoosier—the big work table which you draw out—is covered with pure aluminum. No other cabinet has an aluminum extension top. If the top is not aluminum it is not a Hoosier. You can knead dough on the Hoosier's top without a fear. No poisonous compounds are formed by spilling lemon juice or flavoring extract on the pure aluminum table top of the Hoosier.

Don't buy any cabinet—don't send a cent away to a mail order house—until you have seen the Hoosier. Hoosier cabinets $17 to $25.

Fresh Air is Most Important for Baby in Summer

Keep it in the cool shady places as much as possible. It is practically necessary to have a suitable carriage for the baby, and none are more scientifically constructed than the Sturgis Luxury Carriage. This carriage provides both safety and convenience for both mother and child. It is the only single motion folding and opening carriage made with the Luxury Back and Luxury Springs.

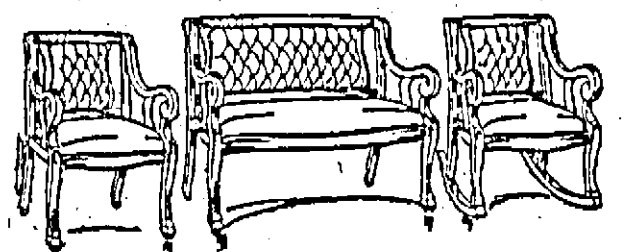

The Luxury back and Luxury springs are contained in no other perambulator. Luxury back means that, while the old style go-cart had a wire or ball reaching across the handles to support the back of the cart, the Sturgis has none. The old ball back conveyed every jar and jolt of the pavement right to the head and back of the infant—the Sturgis wards off every one of the jolts. The Luxury Springs under both front and rear of the seat contribute to the easy riding of the carriage.

Sturgis Folding Carriages are made in a variety of styles and at prices which make them popular everywhere. $5.50 to $22.00. Colors, green, maroon, tan, royal blue, black and silver grey.

JANESVILLE BUGGIES

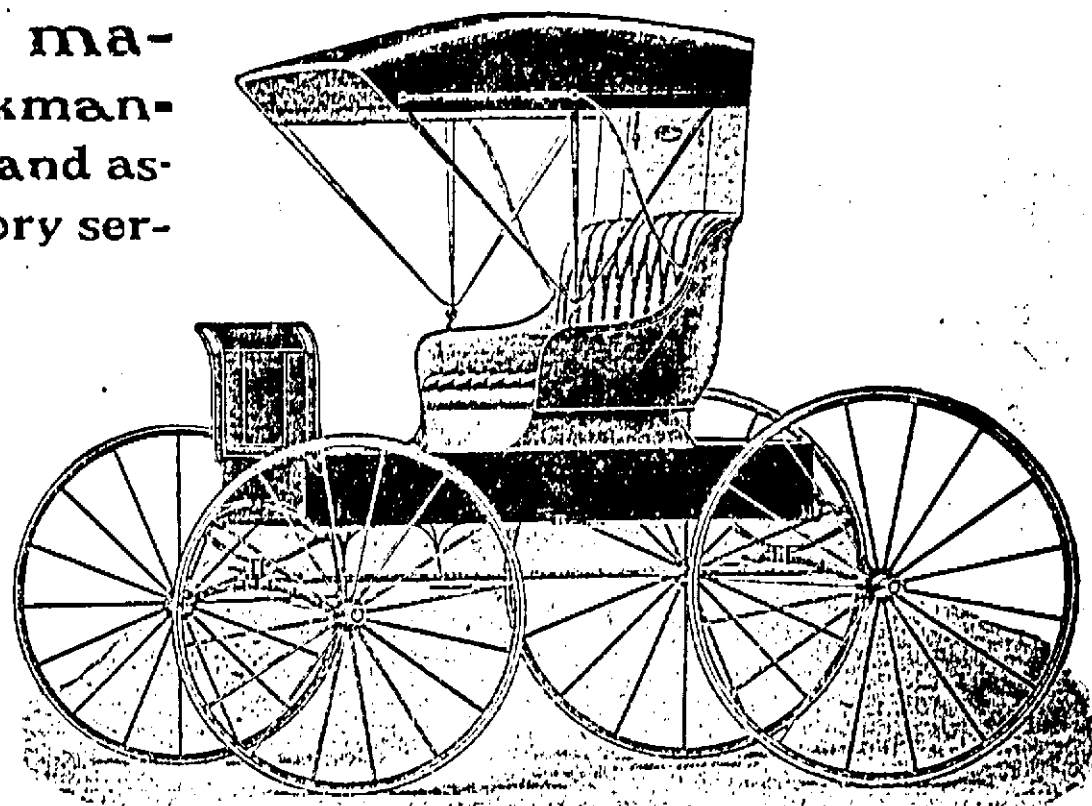

Combine Distinction With Solid Worth

Artistic design adds to their beauty and appreciable value. Janesville Quality founded on the finest materials and thorough workmanship eliminates repair bills and assures permanent, satisfactory service.

This vehicle must be seen to be appreciated. The extra long, easy riding spring, long body and other exclusive Janesville features make this buggy appeal to every buyer.

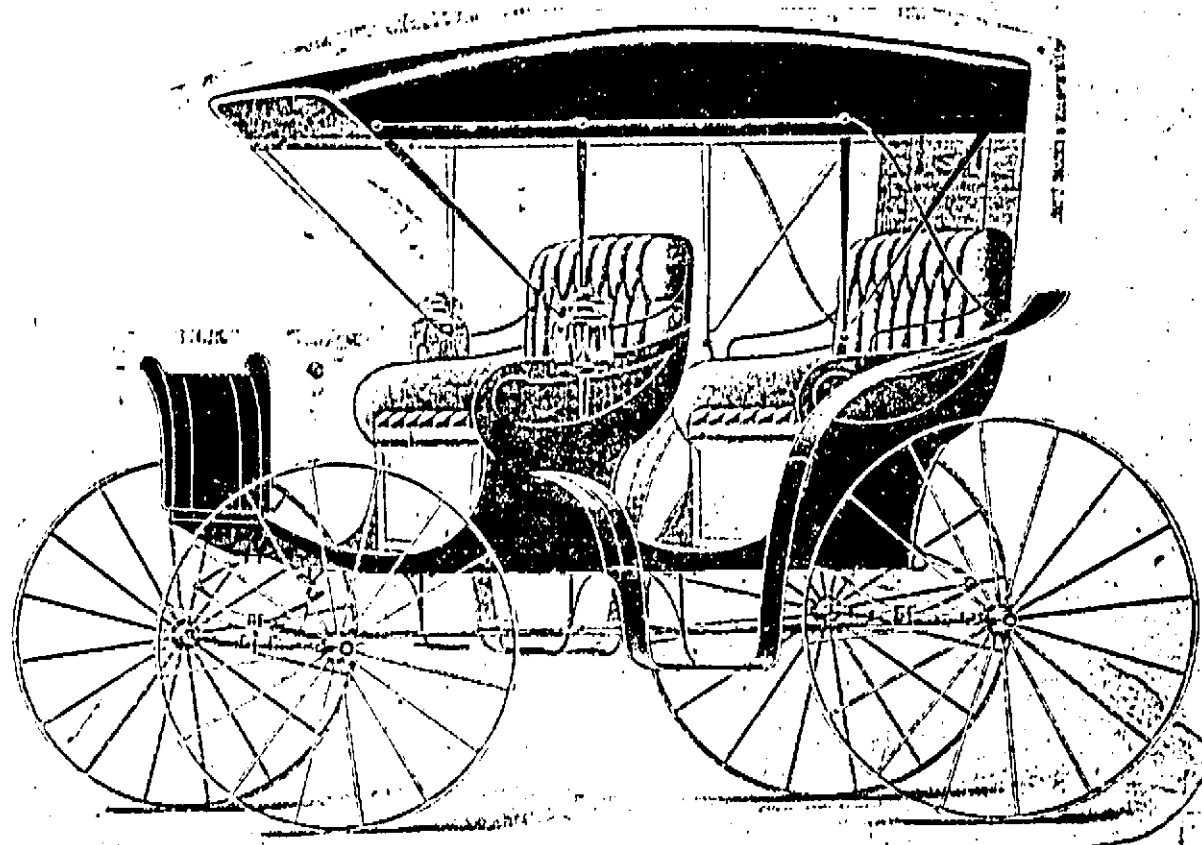

The buggy the young men want. High arch axles, long body, auto seat, auto top, brass trimmings. It is attractive, popular and decidedly up-to-date.

It is easy to use inferior quality of material and then cover up the defects with a coat of paint. The quality of Janesville Buggies goes deeper than the paint—they are honest buggies. We are always glad to have you come and see for yourself the class of article we build—it's the kind you really want.

Our most popular selling surrey. We have sold more of these surreys this year than any other style we have. It is a handsome, large, roomy auto seat surrey, nicely upholstered and is equipped with brass auto lamps and brass robe rail.

This style is very popular where Auto Seat is not wanted. End panels of seat are painted in colors to match gear and wheels, making a pretty combination of colors. Backs are extra high, making a comfortable, easy riding surrey.

Retail Department at Factory

We maintain a retail repository at our factory where we can show you from 60 to 80 different style vehicles, including Auto Seat Buggies with auto top and brass trimmings, phaeton seat buggies, open driving wagons, surreys and spring wagons, in fact almost anything you may want in the vehicle line. It is a pleasure to show our goods and we want you to come and look them over without feeling under any obligations to buy.

Now is the time to place your order for a Janesville Buggy so that we can have plenty of time to get out just what you want, in case we should not have a buggy on the floor made up to your liking. Remember in buying a buggy here you can get just what you want and made just the way you want it. Come and look before your spring work sets in; do not put it off until too late.

Janesville Buggies are handled in Rock County by the following dealers, in addition to being sold at the factory. If these dealers do not have what you want on their floor you can surely find it on our floor.

ASSERTS DEMOCRATS

DESIRE ANNEXATION

Representative Prince Declares Passage of Reciprocity Will Mean Future Control of Canada.

Washington, April 28.—The debate on the free list bill in the house was featured by the declaration that Canadian annexation is the ultimate aim of the Democrats in pressing reciprocity and a humorous speech on the tariff issue.

Mr. Prince of Illinois, Republican, attacking the Canadian reciprocity bill, sounded the annexation note. President Taft's speech in New York furnished his text. He said that the pouring of Americans into the Canadian northwest and the attitude of the controlling forces of the Democratic party could mean nothing else than annexation, reciprocity and partial free trade with Canada being the first step toward that end.

"I say to our neighbors: on the north, be not deceived," said Mr. Prince. "When we go into a country and get control of it, we take it. It is our history and it is right that we should take it if we want it, and you might as well understand it. The speaker has no faith; the party back of him has no faith, and it does not deny that that is its desire."

Mr. Prince declared that the reciprocity bill was the most unconsu-

able bargain ever driven by one nation with another and that the "Democratic farmers' free list bill" ought to be labeled the "farmers' fake bill."

Representative Kent of California, a new Republican member, who succeeded Duncan McKinlay in the house, delivered a semi-humorous speech on the general tariff question, arraigning "a revenue tariff upon necessities." He said that with other novices in the house he felt sure he had absorbed speeches until he had "learned much that cannot possibly be true," and that the congressional record was filled with a mass of mathematics "proving what is logically absurd."

Rambler

Motor Cars

Rambler Sixty-three

CHOOSE a car as you would select a thoroughbred—for its pedigree. You will never be content with a cheap automobile, no more than you would be satisfied with a low-bred herd. You may have confidence in the Rambler because of the reputation of this company and the forty years of experience behind it. Big wheels and tires and long wheel base make it the easiest riding car on the road. Seven-eighths elliptic springs and shock absorbers soften the impact of jolts and limit reaction. The upholstery is that of the finest club furniture. No tire trouble with the Spare Wheel. Brakes being larger than necessary, provide a feeling of security. Safety starting device to protect you from injury while cranking. Offset crank shaft and straight line drive enable you to glide along slowly and quietly behind a loaded wagon and take the hills and deep sand without rushing. These features are essential in a car for use on country roads. Experience will prove that they are not mere talking points.

The new catalog is ready—send for it. Ask also for the Farm Owner's Number of the Rambler Magazine. A postal, giving your name and address, will bring these books free.

RACE SUICIDE

MUCH has been said about race suicide and the necessity of more children. The idea is fallacious! What is needed is children born with better constitutions and the saving of those who are born. Enough are born to populate and keep the world moving; the great necessity is to provide them with that which will protect and save them from disease. This the OXYPATHOR has done, will continue to do, and we appeal to parents who desire the best that can possibly be obtained to bring their children up to robust youth, to make use of this wonderful instrument that that end may be achieved.

For full information concerning this modern triumph and attestations from persons who have used and indorse the OXYPATHOR, as it will be known in the future, or Oxygenator, as it was known in the past, send in your address and obtain our beautiful booklet, entitled "Oxypathy, Nature's Royal Road to Health," also our Magazine "Searchlight."

THEATER

"THE ROSARY"

"The Rosary," a beautiful play to be produced by Messrs. Cusick and MacVitty, at the Myers Theatre Saturday May 13 and Sunday May 14, is described as follows: A typical American family is shown, a young wife, her devoted husband, their friends and the material surroundings, which wealth can procure. Then comes the "jarring notes," so slight that even the most sensitive could hardly hear it. Rather, it is the subtle discord of the atmosphere.

the selfish, romantic world, love that blossoms in the heart of youth and flourishes as true love over days, when things do not go smoothly, is the religious spell of the production, according to report, but his love, this courtship is so honest, on so many sides, and attended by so many misadventures, that while itself remaining an appealing interest, all its necessary situations arouse amusement. Some idea of the fun developed may perhaps be gleaned by a summary of the character where. No one knows whence it comes or the reason of its being; but it grows, more and more apparent. Now it awells into suspicion and doubt, then blind rage, and the household is rent. Its happiness is gone. Then comes the other power, a higher spiritual note, which awells upon the ear until the beauty and divine harmony brings the discordant souls of the family back to peace and full accord. That is "The Rosary." Chicago liked "The Rosary" so well that it stayed there for three months. Its success in Boston is so great that it will undoubtedly run at the Globe Theatre in this city for a year.

of the play which besides the lovers include an Italian house painter, his Irish wife, a lively fun-making actress, a New York man from that town, an ex-convict, an immensely wealthy uncle of the maid in love, and others, including the pupils of a dancing school and the guests of a yacht party.

"Madam Sherry" will be presented at Myers Theatre this evening and from the large advance sale of seats the largest audience of the season will be in evidence when the curtain goes up.

"MADAM SHERRY"
Because every one all over the country is humming, singing or whistling some numbers of the score of the big sensational musical success, "Madam Sherry," the impression is current in some quarters that the production's charm is in greater part musical. It is not so. The music is good, but the play is no less engaging than its score. The love of a man for a maid under odd circumstances, the love of Season's Windup.

A review of the plays which are scheduled for the next few weeks at the local opera house will readily show an unusual line of good productions. As the end of the season draws near, the standard of the usual run of shows which has fallen the lot of Janesville people to see this year will not fall off in the least, and with "Madam Sherry," "Paid in Full," "The Rosary" and others booked for the near future it is safe to say that all will be satisfied. It is possible if the proper arrangements can be made that this season will be Low Dockstader and his peerless minstrel show. The local manager is now in communication with these people and it will be known within a few days as to whether they will come or not. Everyone knows of these dispensers of fun and merriment and the name, Low Dockstader, is like magic in the minstrel world.

MacMillen.
MacMillen gives you sympathy the moment he steps on the stage with his manly bearing. He has the look and carriage of a man who knew what he had come to do and that he could do it, but without fuss or airs. All gatherings of people are telegraphic, so the man that really has such knowledge in his head needs but to stand before them that they may become conscious of the fact.

This season MacMillen gives you at once, and there is no greater pleasure for an audience than this something which tells them that the artist is sure of himself. He is slight but firmly planted on his feet, with no great apparent physical strength, yet with that nervous intensity which knows no fatigue when there is an object in view. Above all is that elusive quality of magnetism which wins the kindly regard before anything has been done to earn it, the something which lured is the gift of the gods.

No matter what talent a man may have, years of hard work will have to go into it if it is to be of special worth, but this other quality is a gift, sure and simple, for which the fortunate possessor has labored not, yet which alone makes art of moving power.

Progress is Necessary.
The merchant who is not progressive is a drawback to the city. He holds back the tide of advancement. So far as growth is concerned, he is dead. He does nothing for the best interests of himself or for others.

Juddo Greaser of the town of Beloit was a caller at the home of his sister, Mrs. Wm. Good, on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Burdick are entertaining relatives from Janesville this week.

Samuel Thomas, For Forty Years A Resident of Rock County, Passed Away At Local Hospital Yesterday.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Save Money on Your COAL BUY NOW!

Our price on Pure Clean Scranton Coal—the best of hard coal—is reduced 50 cents per ton during May. Delay buying your coal until next fall and you'll pay at least 50c cents more. The saving you realize by filling your bins NOW is well worth the while and this saving is made doubly attractive by the greater heating value you get out of

Pure Live Scranton Coal

THE HARD COAL THAT'S ALL COAL

All that looks like coal is not always coal. Slate, rock and minerals are black—but they don't produce heat. Instead they reduce the heating power of the coal with which they're mixed, and they form big, bothersome clinkers. Scranton Coal goes further than ordinary coal—gives a fifth more heating value—requires less attention—and makes less work because it is cleaner and richer in carbon.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON.

WILL you please write and tell me whether it is customary to acknowledge Valentine postcards? I do not know, and I am so anxious to do the courteous thing.

So a young person wrote to me a few weeks ago. I answered her to the best of my ability, but I confess I could not help smiling at that last sentence. You see it didn't seem possible to that anyone who was really "so anxious to do the courteous thing" could have written asking a favor without enclosing a stamp, to say nothing of a self-addressed stamped envelope.

She has many brothers and sisters in this lack of courtesy. Almost daily some epistle comes to me asking help or information or advice, and omitting to do the dearest thing by supplying me with the vehicle in which to send what is wanted.

It seems to me rather like going over to borrow something of a neighbor, and not only expecting her to supply the molasses and milk, but nonchalantly announcing that you didn't see fit to bring a cup and that she will have to supply that, too.

Only in the case of a stamp, it is a gift, not a loan, that's asked.

Yes, I know two cents is a very little matter. But a hundred two cents is more, and a thousand two cents means a good deal to most of us.

Incidentally you might be interested to know that I do not supply the stamps, so that my protest is quite unimpassioned one.

And now, while I'm talking to my correspondents, I might as well say one or two things which have been on my mind for some time.

I wish you people who write and ask me questions, thus giving me a chance to answer you by private letter, instead of expecting the answer in the column. You see my column is, my open letter to many thousands of people, and I do not feel that I ought to take up the space with matters that will only interest one person, or at best, a very few people.

Please do not be afraid to sign your names, whatever you write. I have never published a name, and I never will without the owner's express permission.

I cannot close my talk with my letter friends and acquaintances without once more expressing my thanks to the dear good folks who have sent me words of appreciation and cheer and constructive criticism.

Dear friends, do you know my heart just aches with happiness sometimes to think there are such kind people in the world, and that fate should have brought me in touch with them, when I so little deserve that wonderful good fortune.

That you should think such kind things to yourselves would be enough of you, but that you should actually take the time and make the effort to put them on paper and send them to me—it is wonderful.

I thank you.

I often say from the bottom of my heart, "God bless you and prosper you as you deserve." Many others gladden your lives with the word of appreciation and encouragement spoken at the right moment, as you have mine.

Fourth prize—$2.00.

For the next ten best lists a "Silver Medal" to each.

The contest closes on Monday next, April 30, and the completed lists of menus must be received in the Gazette office by Saturday morning, May 6th.

In making up your lists be sure and state on what days the recipes need be published in the Gazette. Keep in mind that the idea of this contest is to secure a series of menus that can be used by a family for every day of the week, and that the feature of utilization of odds and ends to keep down expenses will count in deciding the winners.

New Contest for Women Readers

In making up your article on your garden and its possibilities, do not fail to tell what to plant and how to care for it. They are most essential features. A few roots of chives are an excellent addition to any garden. A few roots of plantain, asparagus and other hardy plants do not come amiss. Remember all these things in making up your garden list.

The Gazette desires to obtain a series of articles on the garden, its plants and its care and its products that will be of benefit to all its readers. While the garden is not actually the woman's province in the home still it is safe to say that a certain portion of it is given over to her use, both for the kitchen articles and for flowers. There are lots of hardy flowering shrubs and roots that do not need much attention that the average housewife does not know about. It is interesting to learn of them. Include them in your article unless you wish to deal strictly with the kitchen garden or the flower garden proper.

This contest closes a week from today, so be sure and have your articles in the Gazette office by that time. Write on one side of the paper only and write plainly. The following is the list of prizes offered for these articles.

First prize—One dollar.
Second prize—"Silver Medal", silver clasp.
Third prize—Fifty cents.

The Katherine Kip Editorial

YOU ARE WORTH WHAT YOUR BODY IS WORTH.

In one of the eastern cities not long ago a discussion was carried on as to the exact value of youth of the age to enter the colleges and universities. The people of this particular city were astonished when they were told that the physical average among their boys was so low as to place them has nothing to lowest among college students when judged by physical standards. In discussing the matter the physical director made this remark: "A youth in worth what his body is worth and no more. The physical machinery is the instrument of the mind and when this falls the mind work with and the boy drops out of the race."

People generally are apt to overlook the necessity for keeping the body in its near perfect condition as possible. Most of us look upon it as a thing capable of almost unlimited endurance. We are rather astonished when some day it begins to rebel at the treatment it receives from us and refuses to keep going under the strain.

When once we realize that the body is an instrument of the finest make, then do we become more careful of its use. But rather should we consider the body as a finely adjusted machine. If we leave even the minutest part of the machinery out of order, we understand that nothing can happen to one part without affecting all parts. If we learn of all the machines which the world contains that the body is the most delicately constructed and the most scientifically adjusted, then will we come to understand something of the performance of keeping it in order.

The difficulty seems to be that too few persons understand about their physiological makeup. They know nothing practically of the organism that constitutes themselves. They know nothing of this great and beautiful machine called the human being. And because of their ignorance they go on abusing it through the years until some day there comes a crash and the machine either refuses to go at all or over hops thereafter through its functions.

Just the moment you talk about an impeded body having an effect upon the mind, just that moment some one points to some person who did brilliant things under the handicap of poor health or a deformed body. And those who preach for a more intelligent use of the body are forced to admit the truth of the assertion. But no one has yet been able to estimate what these same people might not have been able to accomplish had they had good health. We know in our own experience that just the moment our bodies become sick just that moment our minds suffer. We know when we are sick or uncomfortable that we do not approach the maximum of our possibilities. Then we begin to understand how essential it is that we should keep the body in repair, and that we should treat it as if it were what it is in fact, the absolute support of the mental part of us. When we understand this we understand the potency of the preachment for good health.

The Kitchen Cabinet

JOY comes, grief goes, we know not how; Everything is happy now, Everything is toward spring; 'Tis as easy now for the heart to be true As for the grass to be green or skies to be blue— 'Tis the natural way of living.

Some Company Dishes.

A very appetizing way to serve cheese for many meals is to use the following recipe. Take one cake of cream cheese, one cup of grated New York cheese, mix well with thick cream and half a cup of stuffed olives, season with salt and cayenne pepper and form in a roll. Decorate with thin slices of the olives and serve on a dainty plate on a daily, each guest serving himself by cutting a slice with a small butter-spreader laid on the plate.

A dainty dessert, easy to prepare for the unexpected guest, is prepared by adding marshmallows cut in quarters with shreds, a few blanched, shredded or chopped almonds stirred into sweetened whipped cream. Decorate with candied cherries, ginger or cubes of bright jelly. Serve in sherbet glasses.

A delicious sandwich is made by mixing chopped almonds (blanched) with a hollow salad dressing, just enough to spread nicely. Butter the bread, then add the filling. For a sweet sandwich nothing is daintier than grated maple sugar and walnuts chopped and browned in a very little butter, adding enough cream to mix well.

Fried Potatoes, New Style.

Put the potatoes peeled, through the coarse cutter of the meat chopper, or chop about the size of a large pea. Season well and turn into a smoking hot frying pan, in which there is sufficient hot fat to grieve the bottom generously. Do not stir until well-browned, then cover and set on the back part of the stove to finish cooking, and roll out on the platter as an omelet when serving. This is one of the nicest and most attractive ways of serving fried potatoes. Garnish with parsley if desired.

A perfectly delicious breakfast dish is baked macaroni. If the fresh can be obtained see that it is well-frosted. Put in the oven with a little water in the pan to parboil. Ten minutes before serving pour over a cupful of good thick, sweet cream and you have a dish "fit for the gods."

Nellie Maxwell.

Little German Cakes.

Beat one dozen fresh eggs and three pounds of pulverized sugar for 15 minutes, then add as much soda as will lay on the end of a knife and beat five minutes longer. Be sure and don't stop beating. Add flour enough to knead. Set it aside in a cool place, just so it doesn't freeze, until evening. Then roll a little thicker than pie crust. The Germans have little fancy molds for these, but any small cookie cutter or baking powder can be used to cut them with. After they are all cut spread out on a table and cover with a thick cloth and let lay over night. In the morning sprinkle baking pans with cornmeal and place cakes in pans on seeds and bake in slow oven for three-quarters of an hour. These are favorite little cakes among the Germans and are excellent.

Strawberry Pie.

Make nice rich pie crust; put the bottom of the pan turned upside down on table; put three or four fork holes in the crust to keep from raising up from the pan. Bake by itself. When baked light brown take the crust, turn on a plate, then the crust is ready to fill. Have ready one quart fresh picked strawberries, sweetened to taste, fill the crust with the strawberries, cover the top of the berries with the whites of two well-beaten eggs, sweeten with sugar. Put in the oven just long enough to light brown the whites of the eggs.

Rice Royale.

Pick over and wash a cupful of rice. Drop into a large kettle of boiling water, add a half teaspoonful of salt and tablespoonful of sugar and keep at a galloping boil until the grains feel tender when rubbed between the fingers. Drain thoroughly, pack lightly in a slightly-buttered mold and let stand ten minutes in the open oven. Turn out carefully on a deep platter. Heat over this the syrup from canned fruit (heated), arrange the fruit itself around the base and serve either hot or cold.

Baked Batter Currant Pudding.

This pudding, if correctly made, is both tasty and digestible. Take a quarter of a pound of flour, four ounces of cleaned currants, three eggs, and one cupful of milk, and make into a light batter, then add a teaspoonful of baking powder and a pinch of salt. Pour into a well-buttered pudding dish, sprinkle in the currants, and bake in a moderate oven for about one hour. When baked, turn out the pudding and cut up. Serve with sugar or with golden syrup.

Meat Cakes.

Take cold meat, mince fine with fat bacon, season with pepper and salt, mix well, fry and serve with gravy. Also with hot biscuits for breakfast.

Creamed Dried Beef.

Tear the beef, or rather shred or chop it fine, taking out the skin and strips of tallow. Place in heavy spider, add a good tablespoonful of butter and let melt, adding one tablespoonful of flour. Stir, then add slowly, two to two and a half cups of milk, stirring till smooth and thick. Pour over platter of toast. This may be served without toast and with baked potatoes. The quantity of milk used must be determined by the amount of beef you use.

The remnants of a boiled ham may be chopped and served in the same way.

English Beef Patties.

Make a good pie paste or rich biscuit dough; roll very thin, as for pie. On half of this thin paste cut small pieces of fresh beefsteak, turnips, carrots, potatoes, onions, small bits of suet and butter, salt and pepper, but no water, as beef makes plenty of juice. Fold other half of paste over this and edge as you would a pie. Bake in slow oven one hour. You can make as many as there are people for dinner. These patties, served with coffee and fruit, are sufficient for a meal.

Baked Tapioca Pudding.

Five tablespoons of tapioca, one quart of milk, two ounces of butter, a cup of sugar, four eggs, flavoring of vanilla. Wash the tapioca and let swell gently in milk on the back part of the stove for a quarter of an hour, occasionally stirring it, then let it cool. Mix with it the butter, sugar and eggs, which should be well beaten, and flavor with either of the above ingredients. Butter a dish, put in the pudding and bake in a moderate oven for an hour.

Hygiene Cookies.

One cup of light brown sugar, three fourths cup of butter or part butter and part lard, cream. Add two eggs, well beaten, one teaspoon cinnamon, one fourth teaspoon cloves, one fourth teaspoon nutmeg, one cup cut up raisins, one and three-fourths cups flour, one and one-half cups rolled oats, one level teaspoon of soda dissolved in a little hot water, and a pinch of salt. Mix well. Drop from spoon onto tin, press in shape with knife. Bake in rather hot oven.

Pot Roast of Beef.

Into a round bottom iron kettle put one heaping tablespoon of sweet drippings or bacon fat. When hot add one small onion and one-half green pepper sliced, cook till onion is well browned, skin out vegetables. Put in about three pounds of rump of beef, brown well on all sides. Then add one pint of boiling water. Remove to back of range closely covered to simmer slowly about six hours or until meat is very tender, add water to make plenty of gravy. When meat has been cooking two hours add one teaspoon of salt, a dash of pepper and one tablespoon of tomato catsup. One half hour before serving remove meat, thicken gravy with flour, mixed smooth in cold water. Return meat and allow to simmer till serving time.

Creole Soup.

Cut four slices of bacon into dice and put into soup kettle. When sizzling hot add two onions minced fine. Stir to keep from burning. When both are well browned mix one tablespoon of flour smooth in the fat. Then add one quart of boiling water and remove to back of stove to cook slowly for one half hour, after which put in one quart more of water and potatoes, carrots, cabbage and any other vegetables desired, chopped fine. Season with salt and pepper. Also add two tablespoons of washed rice and a cup of ground tomatoes. Five minutes before taking up add a tablespoonful of finely minced parsley. Strain and serve with crusted crusts.

Mock Bisque Soup.

One-half can tomatoes, two tablespoons sugar, one-fourth teaspoon soda, one-half onion stuck with fine cloves, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, bit of bay leaf, three-fourths cup stale bread crumbs, four cups milk, one-half tablespoon salt, one-third cup butter, sprig parsley. Send milk with bread crumbs, onion, parsley and bayleaf.

Remove seasonings and rub through a sieve. Cook tomatoes with sugar fifteen minutes, add soda, rub through sieve. Reheat bread and milk to boiling point, add tomatoes and pour into three over butter, salt and pepper.

PEACE FOR PARIS.

April 29—April 29, 1920, was the date that saw the raising of the siege of Paris, and the immortalization of the name of Joan of Arc. When Charles VIII. was crowned king of France there was a rival claimant for the throne in the person of Henry VI. of England. Hank was puffed because Charlie insisted on being boss of Paris, and wearing the ornate trimmed Mother Hubbard that denotes royalty. So Hank went after Charlie and took a gang of soldiers with him. They were making things very interesting for everybody in Paris when Joan appeared on the scene and said she had a commission from heaven to save the city. As that outranked any authority the home guards could show, she was given the job, and what she did to the English is history. Since it is to say that in leaving they left their clothes and arms and ammunition and chewing tobacco and everything that is dear to heart of a warrior, and people never do that unless they are in an awful hurry.

Physical Powers of Insects.

Ants will carry loads 40 or 50 times as heavy as themselves. The beetle can move a weight 112 times his own weight. The house fly gives 600 strokes of its wings in one second, and this enables it to get a distance of 25 feet.

One Conductor Helped Back to Work.

Mr. Willard Adams is his name, and he writes: "I was confined to my bed with chronic rheumatism and used two bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy with good effect. The third bottle put me on my feet and I resumed work as conductor on the Lexington, Ky., Street Railway. It will do all you claim in cases of rheumatism." Foley's Kidney Remedy always rheumatism by eliminating the uric acid from the blood. Specially recommended for elderly people. Badger Drug Co.

Something "Just As Good" an Impossibility.—If not the Original Have Nothing at All.

For a woman to adorn her head with false braids, puffs and curls, or a man to wear a topee, is like buying an off-brand hair preparation instead of Newbro's Hairdressing. The "false hair" and the "off brand" are both substitutes for the real thing. The original is always conceded to be better than any imitation or substitute. "Something just as good" is a heresy of the rankest kind.

Newbro's Hairdressing is the original remedy and does as promised. Years of success and thousands of satisfied users have made it standard. Hairdressing kills the dandruff germ, keeps the scalp clean and stops falling hair. Its proper use before baldness appears makes false hair and wigs unnecessary.

There is no uncertainty. The purchaser gets positive results or money is refunded. It is sold and guaranteed by all druggists.

Applications may be obtained at good hairdressing and hair dressing parlors.

How large a part does fresh air play in the numerous plans you are making for improving your looks? Is it not true that you have already selected the cream and lotion you will use, and the kind of bleach you think you will prefer? I believe that you have even decided which new face powder you will try in place of the old which has proved unsatisfactory. But how about your plans for the greatest beautifier of all, fresh air?

Not fresh air once in a while, when you happen to go out doors—even the daily airing out of your living rooms or the office—not the tiny crack at the top of the window which lets in an occasional whiff of air when the wind happens to blow on the side of the house where your sleeping-room is situated. Not one nor all of these precautions will answer the purpose.

If you would be really beautiful; if you would have a clear complexion with that indefinable bloom which is so fascinating; if you would have bright eyes and peachblow tints, you must have fresh air, not occasionally but all the time. Your lungs must be supplied with oxygen in order that the blood which circulates through your veins will be the rich, red blood that brings health and vitality and a good digestion.

If fresh air is good for you at any time, there is no time when it is not good for you. If your lungs need fresh air in the daytime, they certainly need it at night. Fresh air means clean air; air which has not become vitiated with waste matter. You would hesitate to take into your stomach anything you knew was not clean, but do not stop to realize that frequently the air you are taking into your lungs is positively unclean, unwholesome and unhealthy!

The first rudiments of hygiene will teach us the necessity for fresh air if we would be beautiful. We can also make an almost immediate demonstration for ourselves, because a sallow skin will show marked improvement in less than a week when the constant inhalation of perfectly fresh air has replaced the careless habit of breathing vitiated air from unventilated rooms.

If you are troubled with pimples and eruptions of the skin, fresh air may not eliminate them entirely, but it will be of great assistance. If your eyes are not bright, and your head feels dull and stupid, try the open-air remedy for twenty-four hours of the day. I can almost guarantee that the dullness will vanish and not return till you are compelled to spend another day in an atmosphere that has been breathed and rebreathed, till it is not fit for a human being to dwell in.

So great is my faith in the many benefits to be derived from the constant dwelling in an atmosphere that is clean and wholesome and pure, that I believe I would suggest fresh air as the first requisite for beauty, and then follow with the list of creams and lotions and bleaches and deodorizers and all the other desired and desirable beautifiers.

Marjory K.: "Making up" the face is permissible under some circumstances, but the great trouble with the average person who uses any of the means of making up the face is that they do not know just when and where to stop. Sometimes they stop so far in front of the ears that a decided line is left between the red and white of the cheeks and the yellow or brown of the natural skin at the preventing the growth of the new sides of the face and on the neck. Or, in putting a touch of dark under the lower lashes to enlarge the eyes, they put on so wide and dark a line that the eyes are given an ugly, staring look, which spoils the prettiest face. A triple mirror is an absolute essential for the toilet table of the woman who indulges in powder and rouge the scalp healthy and free from dandruff and darkening pencils, because unless she has one she never knows how the sides of her face appear.

James Robert Mann.

IN inverse ratio to his influence is the length of a member's biography in the Congressional Directory. So the meagerness with which he biographizes himself in that document can be accepted as an index to the caliber of the new Minority Mahout, James Robert Mann, of Illinois.

Perchance it is safe to assume that you haven't travelled far and wide in India and therefore do not know that in that Empire the driver of an elephant is known by this melodious term, "mahout," to which title Jim Mann falls heir because his is the job of driving the Republican pachyderm through the Sixty-Second House of Representatives, the same which now sits under the big iron thimble at Washington. Jim Mann's direct predecessor in the Mahoutship was Tom Reed, of Maine, who drove old Hollivar upon the floor during the reign of Chas. F. Crisp, the last Democratic Speaker.

Your eye finds the new Mahout by following the central aisle of the House and pausing at the end seat of the fourth row on the Speaker's left. It is the fourth row which ever way you count, whether from the front or the back of the chamber. Here sits, with elbows on desk, a stolid figure, gray both as to apparel and hair, a stolid figure, and you are at once impressed by the fact that he is an almost exact double, an almost precise reproduction of John Hay, the late Secretary of State. Although he pretends now and then to carelessly scan a document spread before him, not a move of his own good Hollivar or of the Democratic Jackass, just across the fence, escapes the tall of other watchful eyes of the ever watchful Mahout. Every now and then he jumps to his feet, reaches across the fence, jabs his barbed pike into the Democratic beast and gives that weapon a good twist before pulling it out. And his own charge is no less fearful of this same barbed pike. It can't twist its trunk or shake its tail without a nod from Jim Mann's great, broad, wise pate.

"He will make his mark in the world, for he is wise between the ears," said a sage who watched the first John Jacob Astor as, with pack upon back, he left his native village to embark for the land of easy money. And if that same sage had taken Jimmy Mann's callow by the same method he must need have predicted even greater success for that son of the prairie roll.

The species Mann hath flourished in this world for some time, but we will not climb higher in the family tree than that bough on which perched William Henry, the father of our Hollivar's Mahout.

Old man Mann—nameless of "Tippencanoe"—was engaged, when James Robert was born, in subjecting a parcel of prairie soil near Bloomington, in Northern Central Illinois. Little Jim was not quite five when Beauregard started the Civil War, in which father Mann fought as a captain, and when that hefty lad was eleven the whole Mann family picked off some sixty miles to the northwestward to a village called Gilman, which now boasts of some thirty over a thousand inhabitants. Here another parcel of land was put to the plough, and that Captain Mann was a successful farmer is attested by the fact that he sent his three sons to college—Edward, the youngest, becoming a lawyer, and William, who stood next, an eye, ear, and throat specialist of high standing.

When our friend Jimmy, the oldest boy, was sixteen he packed his trunk, stuffed his pockets full of apples, bid a sorrowful farewell to the horses, the cows, the dogs and the family, and in the old spring wagon drove off to the nearest station for a trip to the village of Mason, where he entered the University of Illinois. Here he studied hard for four years and, before he was yet twenty, the family assembled in Mason to beam proudly upon their James as he made his awkward, bashful bow and received his roll of sheepskin out of the hands of the austere prexy.

Every male young one of the Middle West comes into life with a ballot rolled up in his hand. So Jim, being like the rest—a born politician—had to pass through that vestibule to a Mid-Western political career—the law school. Before the thrill at being a university graduate had had time to cool in his blood he entered the Union College of Law, at Chicago, in which city he was to stick after being admitted to practice his profession.

A Patriotic Wedding.

After the rust of but a single year had mellowed his shingle, James distinguished himself by pulling off the most patriotic wedding ever scheduled in our land of patriots. Firstly and foremostly, he married Miss Columbia herself.

What, indeed, can the Democratic horde in the House say for itself when one of their adversaries shouts from old Hollivar's back:

"Plo! Plo! You heathen, did not Miss Columbia herself, of her own free will and volition, select for her lord and master one of our faith—our own majestic Mahout?"

The New Minority Mahout.

Nay, not even "Fighting Pitt" himself can find an answer for that.

Perhaps, now, you think that I'm speaking figuratively about this Memorial Day bride of our good Mann. Look up the marriage returns for yourself, and if you don't find that his Mahoutship, on May 30, 1882, wedded Miss Emma Columbia, of Champaign, Illinois, I will own this splattering fountain pen that is putting it down. And there was plenty of Champaign at the wedding, too, though whisper it not today in the dry lands of the Middle West or our James Robert will have to vomit from the Mahoutship.

After bearing her off, amid the firing of guns and old shoes, our newly-married Mann took his pretty bride to a cottage in Hyde Park, a village which, he calculated, would one day be butt into and eaten up by the fast expanding, windy metropolis of the great West.

So our young attorney settled down and waited for Chicago to come his way, which was as bold, perhaps, as the stunt which Mohammed arranged for himself and the mountain, but much more sure. Back in the late eighties, when James Mann, as member of the Hyde Park School Board and village attorney for the same suburb, was taking up the details of town government with the same infinite care that he now applies to the management of his party in the National House of Representatives—and even more seriously—he was not finding his name in very heavy load. No one, unless it were himself, ever dreamed in those days that the stolid attorney of Hyde Park would one day become a national leader.

The year that we celebrated Admiral Chris Columbus' arrival two big events occurred right in the neighborhood of Village Attorney Mann. Uncle Samuel pulled off his big World's Fair upon the lake bank, just beyond Hyde Park, and Chicago, rushing to the fair, butted into Hyde Park and gobbled it up.

So Jim Mann's prophecy was fulfilled. The collision sent his property away up in value, as it did also James himself. His village became Chicago's Thirty-second Ward, which sent him to the City Hall as Alderman. And in the City Hall he had served only three years when his district decided to honor him with the Republican nomination to Congress. That was the year when McKinley first battled with Bryan for Cleveland's seat in the White House, and James Robert Mann came to Washington with the Ohio Napoleon. He has been there ever since.

Dr. Wiley laid the pure food egg, but James R. Mann hatched it in the House, where he was manager and principal support of the bill which gave the kibosh to the cheats, mislabelers and poisoners. Last year, as Chairman of the Committee on Interstate Commerce, he was leader in the debate on the railway bill and became endeared to the Progressives for his valiant, though vain, endeavors to put its stock-and-bond-regulation provisions through conference. But what, more than that, gave him the support of enough Progressives to assure his recent election as Minority Leader, was his final vote against the Payne-Aldrich bill when that measure was in its last conference. Although a protectionist, he would not support the final bill because he regarded its rates as unfair to the manufacturers and consumers of print paper.

The new Mahout will be fifty-five on October 20. If his party wins the House in 1912 he will probably be the next Speaker. So keep your weather eye on J. R. M.

DOINGS OF THE VAN LOONS—What chance has a mere millionaire against a baseball star?

(Copyright, A. C. McClure & Co., 1910.)

"Sure it is if they catch us, but we'd be hung twice. Besides there is a chance for us with the ponies, and none at all without. An hour's start in the saddle, Neb, and this bunch back here will never even find our trail; I pledge you that. Come, boy, stay close with me."

It was the quiet, confident voice of assured command, of one satisfied with his plans, and the obedient negro, breathing hard, never dreamed of opposition; but instinct of slavery held him to the dominion of this white master. Keith leaned forward, staring at the string of deserted ponies tied to the rail. Success depended on his choice, and he could judge very little in that darkness. Men were struggling in along the street to their right, on foot and horseback, and the action on the corner was being well patronized. A glow of light streamed forth from its windows, and there was the sound of many voices. But this narrow alley was deserted, and black. The fugitive stepped boldly forward, afraid that otherwise he might startle the ponies and thus create an alarm. Guided by a horseman's instinct he swiftly ran his hands over the animals and made quick selection.

"Here, Neb, take this fellow; lead him quietly down the bank," and he thrust the loosened roth into the black's hand.

An instant later he had chosen his own mount, and was silently moving in the same direction, although the night there was so black that the obedient negro had already entirely vanished. The slope of the land not only helped cover their movements, but also rendered it easy for them to find one another. Fully a hundred yards westward they met, where a gully led directly down toward the river. There was no longer need for running on foot, as they were a sufficient distance away from the little town to feel no fear of being discovered, unless by some drunken straggler. At Keith's command the negro climbed into his saddle. Both ponies were reative, but not vicious, and after a plunge or two, to test their new masters, came easily under control. Keith led the way, moving straight down the gully, which gradually deepened, burying them in its black heart, until it finally debouched onto the river sands. The riotous noises of the drunken town died slowly away behind, the night silent and dark. The two riders could scarcely distinguish one another as they drew rein at the edge of the water. To the southward there glomed a cluster of lights, marking the position of the camp of regulars. Keith drove his horse deeper into the stream and headed northward, the negro following like a shadow.

"Do You See That Straight Ahead of You?"

There was a ford directly opposite the encampment, and another, more dangerous, and known to only a few, three miles farther up stream. Keeping well within the water's edge, so as to thus completely obscure their trail, yet not daring to venture deep for rising, hurled clouds of sand into their eyes, and the plainsman held one hand before his face.

"There's no need of keeping up a water trail any longer," he said quietly. "By all the signs we're in for a sand storm by daylight, and that will cover our tracks so the devil himself couldn't follow them. Got a water bag on your saddle."

"I reckon dis am one, sah," Keith felt of the object Neb held forth.

"Yes, and a big one, too; fill it and strap it on tight; we've got a long, dry ride ahead."

"What' yo' propose goin', Massa Jack?"

"To the 'Dat X' on the Canadian. I've worked with that outfit. They'll give us whatever we need, and ask no questions; I don't know of anything in between. It's going to be a hard ride, boy, and mighty little to eat except what I saved from supper."

"How far am it to dis yere 'Dat X'?"

"A hundred and fifty miles as the crow flies, and sand all the way, except for the valley of Salt Fork. Come on now, and keep close, for it's easy to get lost in these sand hills."

Keith had ridden that hundred and fifty miles of sandy desolation before, but had never been called upon to make such a journey as this proved to be. He knew there was little to fear from human enemies, for they were riding far enough east of the Santa Fe trail to be out of the path of raiding parties, while this desert country was shunned by Indian hunters. It consisted of sand hills after sand hill, a drear waterless waste, where nothing grew, and held the dread sameness of which a traveler could only find passage by the guidance of stars at night or the blazing sun by day. To the eye miles after miles appeared exactly alike, with nothing whatever to distinguish either distance or direction—the same drifting ridges of sand stretching forth in every direction, no summit higher than another, no semblance of green shrubbery, or silver sheen of running water anywhere to break the dull monotony—a vast sandy plain, devoid of life, extending to the horizon, overhung by a barren sky.

They had covered ten miles of it by daybreak, their ponies traveling heavily, fatigued deep, but could advance no further. With the first tint of rose in the east the brooding storm burst upon them in wild desert fury, the fierce wind buffeting their back, lashing their faces with sharp grit until they were unable to bear the pain.

The flying sand smote them in clouds, driven with the speed of bullets. In vain they lay flat, urging their ponies forward; the beasts, maddened and blinded by the merciless lashing of the sand, refused to face the storm. Keith, all sense of direction long since lost, rolled wearily from the saddle, burrowed under the partial shelter of a sand dune, and called upon Neb to follow him. With their hands and feet they made a slight wind-break, dragging the struggling ponies into its protection, and burrowed themselves there, the clouds of sand skurrying over them so thick as to obscure the sky, and rapidly burying them altogether as though in a grave. Within an hour they were compelled to dig themselves out, yet it proved partial escape from the pitiless lashing. The wind howled like unloosed demons, and the air grew cold, adding to the sting of the grit, when some sudden eddy hurried it into their hiding place.

To endeavor further travel would mean certain death, for no one could have guided a course for a hundred feet through the tempest, which seemed to suck the very breath away. To the fugitives came this comfort—if they could not advance, then no one else could follow, and the storm was completely blotting out their trail.

It was three o'clock before it died sufficiently down for them to venture out. Even then the air remained full of sand, while constantly shifting ridges made travel difficult. Only grim necessity—the suffering of the ponies for water, and their own need for food—reaching the habitation of man and acquiring food—drove them to the early venture. They must attain the valley of the Salt Fork that night, or else perish in the desert—there remained no other choice. Tying neckerchiefs over their horses' eyes, and lying flat themselves, they succeeded in pressing slowly forward, winding in and out among the shifting dunes, with only the wind to guide them. It was an awful trail, the horse sinking deep in drifting sand, the struggling ponies becoming so exhausted that their riders finally dismounted, and staggered forward on foot, leading their stumbling blindingly after. Once the negro's horse dropped, and had to be lashed to its feet again; once Keith's pony stumbled and fell on him, hurling him face down into the sand, and he would have died there, lacking sufficient strength to lift the dead weight, but for Neb's assistance. As it was he went staggering blindly forward, bruised, and faint from hunger and fatigue. Neither man spoke; they had no breath nor energy left to waste; every ounce of strength needed to be conserved for the battle against nature. They were fighting for life; fighting grimly, almost hopelessly, and alone.

IN HOT FIGHT.

Washington, D. C.—John Hays Hammond, friend of President Taft, and special ambassador of the United States to the coronation of the King of England, is engaged in a legal fight with Daniel J. Sully, the cotton king. Sully has brought suit against Hammond and other to restrain them from transferring certain stocks. This suit is connected with another action in which Sully is suing Hammond for $10,000 for alleged defamation of Sully's character and business prospects, whereas on the witness stand Hammond testified that he acted purely in the interest of minority stockholders even at a material financial loss to himself.

Once during the hearing the eyes of Sully and Hammond met across the broad desk at which they sat.

"I'd like to say what I really think about Mr. Sully," said Hammond.

"You can," said Sully's counsel.

"But it wouldn't look well in the court records," explained Hammond.

Concerning Man-Eaters.

It seems strange that bears, so fond of all sorts of flesh, running the risks of guns and fire and poison, should never attack men except in defense of their young. Only wolves and tigers seem to have learned to hunt man for food, and perhaps sharks and crocodiles. Mosquitoes and other insects would, I suppose, devour a helpless man in some parts of the world, and so might lions, leopards, wolves, hyenas and panthers at times if pressed by hunger—but under ordinary circumstances perhaps only the tiger among land animals may be said to be a man-eater, unless we add man himself.—John Muir, in the Atlantic.

The Two Kinds of Widows.

There are two kinds of widows, grass and red. The red species, sometimes known as the common or garden variety of widow, is relieved of the burden of a spouse. The grass widow has a husband on her hands, but cannot put said hands upon him.—From Case and Comment.

BACK GIVES OUT

Plenty of Janesville Readers Have This Experience.

You tax the kidneys—overwork them.

They can't keep up the continual strain.

The back gives out—it aches and pains.

Urinary troubles set in.

I don't wait longer—take Don's Kidney Pills.

Janesville people tell you how they act.

Mrs. B. F. Jones, 419 Western Ave., Janesville, Wis., says: "My back was so painful that I had to go around all stooped over and sometimes there was a weakness through my loins that made it impossible for me to stand. I did not sleep well and it seemed as if a weight were tied to my back. Seeing Don's Kidney Pills highly recommended, I got a box of the People's Drug Co. and began their use. They cured me and at that time I was pleased to make the fact known by means of a public statement. I take pleasure in confirming all I have previously said regarding Don's Kidney Pills and can add that I value them as highly as ever. I know that this remedy can be relied upon to correct any symptom of kidney trouble."

A HUGE STRIKE IS NOW FEARED

CRISIS INVOLVES 63,000 MEN AND MILLIONS OF DOLLARS IN BUILDINGS.

BREAD WAR IS THREATENED

Wage Disputes and Jurisdictional Fights Still Chicago's Industrial Circles—Transportation Will Be Affected, if Trouble Comes.

Chicago, April 29.—As "May" day approaches, Chicago's industrial horizon is more clouded than it has been for several years. Wage disputes and jurisdictional controversies, involving more than 45,000 men, prove a disturbing factor.

Three monstrous strikes and a lock-out threatened for the beginning of next week will, if carried into effect, throw about 63,000 men out of employment, tie up the building interests of Chicago to amounts running into tens of millions of dollars, and cause general depression of business throughout Chicago and the middle West.

Chicago is chiefly concerned with the settlement of the general building trades strike, which has resulted from a jurisdictional war between the plumbers and steamfitters. The contractors have threatened a lockout next Tuesday unless this dispute is settled. Such action would throw about 50,000 men out of work.

Thousand Bakers Ready to Strike. About 1,000 union bakers threaten to strike and the up 50 per cent. of the industry in this city if they are not granted the terms they are asking from their employers.

Ten thousand freight handlers in Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and Colorado will in special meetings take a strike vote because their demands for an increase in wages, better working conditions and a half holiday on Saturdays have been ignored by their employers.

Two thousand of the maintenance-of-way men employed in the steam railroads centering in Chicago are asking for standardization of wages and an increase of wages for foremen, and will take a strike vote.

Three Walkouts Inevitable. The three strikes mentioned seem inevitable, and strenuous efforts are being put forward by the building interests of this city to bring about an amicable settlement between the plumbers and steamfitters to avoid the threatened lockout set for next Tuesday.

President William J. O'Brien of the contractors' council appointed a committee of three to attempt to meet the rival organizations of plumbers and steamfitters and try to effect a settlement. A meeting will be held and representatives of both the rival unions have been asked to meet with the contractors' committee. If the meeting proves unsuccessful the threat of a general suspension of building business in the city will be carried into effect Tuesday.

WELLS-FARGO'S STRIDES TOLD

Enormous Profits Distributed Revealed at St. Paul Rate Hearing.

St. Paul, April 29.—How the Wells Fargo Express company started with $5,000,000 stock, increased it to $24,000,000, paid 10 per cent. dividends annually for sixteen years, declared a 310 per cent. dividend last year and then had $3,600,000 cash surplus was indicated in evidence given before the state railroad and warehouse commission at the express rate hearing at the capitol.

Attorneys representing the state of Minnesota and the Wells-Fargo company have looked horns for two days over setting in these admissions. The company admitted that the original capitalization was $5,000,000 at the time of the amalgamation with the eastern concerns.

For sixteen years dividends of 10 per cent. annually were paid on $8,000,000. In 1910, with an enormous surplus in its treasury, a dividend of 310 per cent. was declared, 100 per cent. payable in cash, thus returning to stockholders all the money they had ever invested in Wells-Fargo stock.

New York, April 29.—Mrs. Carroll Brown of Baltimore, the oldest daughter of Marcus Daly, ended here last night her flight from the thin air of the Montana mountains with death almost the victor. The latest electric invention is the electric carpet for heating rooms. It was originated in Paris. The under side of the new carpet consists of a network of steel wires through which the current is equally distributed in all directions. It is said that the cost of the new form of heating will be less than that of any known system; indeed, it is estimated that a room fitted with one of these carpets can be heated at a total cost of a penny an hour.

We've Reduced the Price of Vulcanizing Punctures By Steam from 50c to 25c

To keep this low price in effect it is necessary that we have at least a hundred of such jobs each week or the price goes back to 50c. Unless the volume of business is large enough to warrant it we cannot do the work for 25c consistently, so we depend upon you auto owners to keep the price down by bringing your punctures here to be vulcanized instead of taking chances with a cold patch.

Don't Look For Health in the Bottom of a Medicine Bottle. It Is Not There

J. N. PUDDICOMBE

Strong drugs, poisons, and the knife do not do much to bring back health. Science is learning newer and better ways each year and among other things is it learning the fallacies of old time foggy methods.

All over the world, in the best hospitals, fewer drugs are being given each year.

The Theory of the Chiropractors Is To Let Nature Make You Well

If your spine is in perfect shape you can throw off all disease. If the cause of your disease is removed, you will get well in just the same way that you got sick.

Chiropractic adjustments, correct subluxations of the spine. Subluxations of the spine cause a pressure on the nerves leading from the brain to all parts of the body. As long as the pressure remains, the life impulses which flow through the nerves are stopped, and the parts of the body which are nourished by these nerves cannot perform their functions. If Chiropractic Adjustments are given, the pressure removed, the life impulses flow readily, then, and not until then will you get well. Medicines cannot and will not correct subluxations of the spine. Not one man in a thousand has a perfect spine, and not one man or woman in a hundred are enjoying perfect health. The little minor aches and pains do not bother much, but they are nature's signs of "something wrong" and unless that something is given attention it may lead to serious ailment.

If the Chiropractic Science was not founded upon correct principles, it would not enjoy the wonderful record of results, 98% of the people who go to Chiropractors get well, and before most of them go to the Chiropractors they first try Doctors, Surgeons, Faith healers, etc., spending many times the nominal fees charged by the Chiropractors.

The Chiropractic Science like every other wonderful achievement, is looked upon with skepticism at first, next with interest, next with hope, and finally with assurance. If you suffer today, do like hundreds of others have done, come to the office for an interview. Examination and advice FREE. Remember that the Chiropractic Science is a science of old truths, a science so simple that you will readily understand it and see how you can get well.

These records are but a few of the many cases that have been overcome.

chronic constipation. These people can all become well by Chiropractic Adjustment, freeing nerves to liver and bowels. We have more of these cases than any other kind. It takes considerable time when cases are chronic, but can always be successfully handled. If laxatives are continued or stimulants it will end in stroke of paralysis or other serious troubles.

Illustration No. 6. A case of a lady with a bad cough and bronchitis caused by a subluxation of the 6th cervical vertebra pressing the nerves ramifying the bronchial tubes and causing severe Illustration No. 12. A successful plumber had enlargement of the liver from a contracted fever and malaria. Sore cramps were always felt. When examined by the Chiropractor the cause of the disease was immediately located. This case was entirely overcome by adjusting spine at 7th, 8th and 9th dorsal vertebrae, thus loosening the nerves to liver and restoring the mental impulses, which is life.

In biliousness the liver is often needed, and then when it can not perform its function any more, it is forced into activity by laxatives, until the trouble ends in coughing spells. This was readily overcome by adjusting the vertebra to normal position. Similar cases are of frequent occurrence and all people get well after taking Chiropractic Adjustment who were affected by the same trouble.

Illustration Number seven shows the 7th cervical vertebra of the neck out of place. A case in point is that of a man who had paralysis of the 6th cervical vertebra pressing the nerves ramifying the bronchial tubes and causing severe Illustration No. 10. Lady blind most of time for 15 years; tumor on one side of eye-balls. The vertebra of the first and second cervical were shutting off the nerves leading to eyes. She suffered intensely. These vertebrae were adjusted to normal position and she regained her sight and became well.

Cases of eye diseases of various kinds are brought to us. All have been made well when adjustments were taken. We find that pressure on the nerves leading to different parts of the body causes different diseases; so the subluxation is not always at the same place in the spine.

By adjusting the vertebra, the normal condition was restored and the man got well.

We have a great many of these cases, and 98 per cent got well.

Consumption is not contagious, as very many people associate with these cases daily, and yet are no more liable to contract this disease than men engaged in other callings.

Consumption is started with a cold or catarrhal condition of the head, the discharge therefrom running down the bronchial tubes which irritates the nerves and causing contraction of the muscles which produces a subluxation of the first and second Dorsal vertebra. The result is Bronchitis and Consumption. By replacing these dorsal vertebrae we restore the natural condition and the disease disappears immediately. The superiority of the Chiropractic science.

CONSUMPTION AND BRONCHIAL TROUBLE.

Illustration No. 9 Consumption in a young lady. The second and third Dorsal vertebrae were found in a lateral subluxated condition, throwing a pressure on the nerves that ramify the lungs, causing congestion of the lungs which throw the patient into consumption. By replacing the vertebrae and removing the pressure from these nerves it gives nature a chance to restore perfect health.

We have had a large per cent of these cases, and all are now well. Consumption is not contagious, as very many people associate with these cases daily, and yet are no more liable to contract this disease than men engaged in other callings.
